Commissioners Accept Putnam Motors Bid

The bid for two dump trucks for the County Highway Dept. was awarded to Putnam Motors yesterday morning at the regular June meeting of the Putnam County Commissioners.

Their bid of $13,370.20 for the two 1974 Dodge trucks was the only bid presented and the trucks will be available later this week.

The commissioners made two resolutions; the first one concerns the Little Walnut Creek Conservancy District. James Houck and George Murphey discussed the requirements for the contractors with the commissioners.

It was resolved that the turnarounds must meet the specifications set forth in the county plan and the county surveyor must approve the barricades, both temporary and permanent.

The commissioners also resolved that all roads taken over by the county in the future must meet the specifications set forth in the County Plan, Section Six, Paragraph Ten. This resolution came as a result of a discussion on the condition of the roads at Heritage Lake. The roads, which were laid about a year ago by Hartman Brothers, were inspected by the commissioners and the county highway superintendent recently, who said it is "falling apart."

According to specifications the contractor agreed upon, tation is best adapted for wildlife food and cover.

Much of VanHoey's efforts go into information and educational programs. He speaks at various schools, clubs and organizations, conducts field day demonstrations and takes kids, many who have never seen a rabbit or a squirrel, on wildlife tours. He also uses the media widely to disseminate information. He is often called on to judge wildlife exhibits at fairs.

An important phase of Van Hoey's work is the farm game program in which he provides technical assistance, advising what plantings will attract wildlife. Through his department, farmers can purchase seedling and seed for plantings which will attract wild creatures.

Special projects in wildlife management includes establishments of blinds and hunting programs for lake areas.

"All wildlife must have food, cover and water," Van Hoey said. He also told Optimists that wildlife is declining in numbers because of present land patterns of farms and highways. Another discouraging fact is the cultural change which has caused many to lose interest in the outdoors.

The aim of Van Hoey and his department is to change this image and promote land use that will reverse the downward trend of wildlife.

South Board Implements Conferences

The South Putnam School Board voted to implement parent-teacher conferences of which a group of community citizens had previously asked to be considered, in its meeting Monday night.

The other two programs first presented by the group at the May 6 meeting of the school board were also discussed, and one was acted upon.

These were: (1) parent volunteers, which the board said were already being used. (2) A pre-kindergarten testing program for visual perception. The board promised to discuss this proposal with the replacement for the retiring school district psychologist.

The board passed the parent teacher proposal with the stipulation that, "We'll try it for a year." It is preliminarily intended that two conferences a school year be held possibly in the eighth or ninth week of the grading period, but as Superintendent Harold Boone said, "We'll have to work out the mechanics of it; we don't expect any problems."

There was some discussion by parents and teachers who were present at the meeting on scheduling and other matters connected with the program.

A parent presented figures from the Brazil School District citing 85% attendance achieved in similar conferences there. A teacher commented, "It's up to us to make it a success or failure, we'll have to be more observant of the individual student."

The pre-kindergarten testing proposal seemed to be a bit more complicated. A few points were still hazy at the end of the meeting of which Boone said, "I'll find out specifically about the test in question."

The complications were: (1) Has the school corporation already paid for the tests and if so, why haven't they been administered? (2) Why aren't testing programs in use now sufficient? (3) Will the new psychologist find the test necessary, or does he have specific tests he wants to give?

Instead of passing a motion of implementing the pre-kindergarten testing, while these questions still remained, the Board passed the motion to discuss the matter with the new psychologist, mostly to assure the citizen group that further consideration would be given to the proposal.

This came after a specific motion was asked for by a group spokesperson, "for any testing necessary."

Protesting Expected To Continue At School Board Meeting

A citizen's group is expected to further protest the firing of several North Putnam School District teachers and "administrative policies" in the school board meeting Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. in Bainbridge.

The same group presented its first protest reactions at a May 2 meeting in which the school board contended that, "the Administration has the responsibility to evaluate personnel, and no teacher has submitted a written request for the reason he (or she) was dropped from the school system."

A board spokesman satisfied the group by setting up a special May 6 meeting to discuss the non-renewals and other matters with teachers. Toward the end of the meeting, the spokesman stated, "We're willing to listen to you."

The board failed to alter its position after the meeting, as a May 22 Morning Edition story announced that the school board had "reviewed all evidence and statements presented at these meetings, and there was no reason to include any further discussion of the resignation and termination on any future agenda of the school board."

This prompted a notice in the classified section of the Banner-Graphic in Tuesday's editions which read: "North Putnam Concerned Citizens. You are needed at the School Board meeting June 6, 7:30, regarding teacher dismissal, administrative policies."

Also, a Letter to the Editor appeared in the same day's Banner-Graphic from one of the teachers in question, Leroy Blocher.

So the way things are shaping up, it appears these matters will again be discussed at the North Putnam School Board meeting Thursday night. Whether they're on the agenda or not.

Gasoline Supply Only 90 Percent Of 1972

By DARRELL CHRISTIAN
Associated Press Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Public conservation of gasoline appears to have gone the way of winter weather, leaving the threat of a serious fuel shortage again this winter, Indiana's energy chief says.

Thomas F. Kibler, new state fuel allocation officer, said although more gasoline is available now, it still is only about 90 per cent of the supply two years ago—before the energy crisis.

Reduced public conservation, coupled with seasonal increases in usage, could more than eat up the extra gasoline, he said.

Kibler, who became state fuel allocation officer and chairman of the Governor's Energy Conservation Committee in April, said conflicting statements by federal officials have contributed to the problem.

"There is no accurate way to monitor the traffic flow," he said in an interview with The Associated Press, "but from all indications the public has ignored the fact that there is still an imminent shortage of gasoline supplies."

"They seem to have dropped all their restraints and gone back to the good old days," Kibler said gasoline supplies in Indiana in May were 28 per cent more than April. But he said there still were at least as many, and perhaps more, requests for special allocations at the end of last month as there were in April.

"This would indicate the public did 28 per cent more driving," he said. "We expected an increase, of course, because in May of any year with better weather and farming activity the demand goes up."

Kibler added, however, there was no way to figure how much of an increase was normal in reality that gasoline availability for use by the motoring public has been and will continue to be on a basis of allocation," he added. "But the public doesn't trust us. They don't believe us when we say there still is a shortage."

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Naomi's sexual dilemma is widespread. Both California and New York have almost a 50% divorce rate. Which means the couples confused "mating" with the idealism of a true love type of "marriage." Discuss this case and send for the booklet below.

CASE A-651: Naomi Z., aged 32, is the Guidance Counselor in a California high school.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "you doubtless realize that our divorce rate in California is almost 50%."

"And some papers even carry the pictures of college men and their coed concubines, in lieu of the usual wedding pictures!"

"So the stamp of public approval is beginning to make our teenagers think that sexual promiscuity is right and proper."

"And some of the mothers of our students actually go along with this lax moral code."

"They have even told me that they feel it is well for both sexes to 'sow their wild oats' before they ever think of marriage."

"For they claim such promiscuity teaches the couples better sexual adjustment. Is that really true?"

SEX SOPHISTRY

No; that's merely sexual sophistry: lustful and rationalization.

For example, if an untutored boy sits down at the keyboard of 10 different pianos and pounds the keys in aimless fashion, will 10 pianos make him any more of a Paderewski than just one piano?

Certainly not!

For pianos don't teach music!

It takes a qualified expert, such as a piano instructor, to do that job.

And when a boy is tutored by such an expert, he may become a concert musician or even another Paderewski.

For Paderewski didn't need but ONE PIANO TO ATTAIN HIS FAME!

So this promiscuity argument now widely parroted by stupid parents, is not only false, but it leads to the venereal disease epidemic that is spreading all over America.

And it dissipates the idealistic aspects of true love, so that many young people now think "mating" is synonymous with "marriage."

Alas, mating is comparable to a restaurant banquet, where the physical senses are overfed but you don't feel enamored of the chef or cook.

Sexual union is supposed to be the culmination of a true love affair, instead of a one-night orgy.

Wise men for the 5,000 years of recorded history have pointed out the folly of thinking that sex is synonymous with true love.

Women tend to identify the two, but that isn't the case with men.

For rapists don't have any tender regard for their victims, but abuse them and then may kill them afterwards!

Men can thus enjoy sex with victims they hate or just to get their "money's worth" for having paid for dinner and a theater date.

Of as a sporting act to humiliate a Women's Libber.

When they talk marriage and back it up with a wedding ring, that usually means they are combining sex with true love.

But you girls better get that wedding ring first!

For men can also overwhelm you with a convincing sales talk and falsely protest their undying love, though they may desert you next morning.

Read about Prince Ammon's case (II Samuel, Chapter 13), which has been a Biblical warning to women for nearly 3,000 years!

Promiscuity actually reduces a couple's chances of marital happiness!

So don't desecrate the idealism of true love by mere mating orgies.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents, and you can become expert with just one partner.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Landgrebe Pays Convention Fee

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Rep. Earl F. Landgrebe, R-Ind., scheduled a news conference in Indianapolis today following payment of his state convention fee as a candidate for U.S. senator.

Landgrebe, a strong supporter of President Nixon, jumped into the race last week, opposing Mayor Richard G. Lugar of Indianapolis. The fee is $6,375. The deadline for candidates to pay fees is June 20, opening day of the GOP State Convention. Nominees will be chosen June 21.

State Treasurer Jack L. New paid his $2,350 state convention assessment for renomination Monday. New has no opposition so far for the Democratic State Convention June 17-18. He is completing a four-year term and also was treasurer in 1966-67, when the term was limited to two years.

Secretary of State Larry A. Conrad, who's involved in the only heated contest shaping up for the Democratic convention, said he would pay his fee Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

Conrad has been under fire for a purported master plan of his political future and for published allegations of misuse of telephones and telephone credit cards assigned to his office.

Opposing Conrad are State Rep. B. Patrick Bauer of South Bend, William M. Scher, Marion County Democratic chairman, and Rob P. McCallen of Wabash.

Landgrebe, announcing his candidacy at a news conference in his hometown of Valparaiso, took issue with Lugar's criticism of President Nixon.

The congressman indicated he would campaign mostly on weekends. He needs the support of more than 1,000 convention delegates to win the nomination.

Lugar has not paid his fee yet.

Indiana Termed 'Crossbones Of America?'

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Indiana doesn't get a fairer share of federal tax dollars, its symbol may turn from "Crossroads of America" to "Crossbones of America," a Hoosier state official said today.

Richard A. Boehning, State Highway Commission chairman, led a delegation of 70 Indiana leaders who gave the state's congressional delegation a breakfast briefing on the Indiana road building and maintenance situation.

Boehning, in remarks prepared for the breakfast session, again proposed repeal of the federal 4-cents per gallon gasoline tax, permitting states to re-enact it at the state level, with an alternative of a 2-cent shift.

The highway chairman had made the same proposal at the recent Purdue University road school.

But Boehning said he is "a realistic individual as well as optimistic. While the 4-cent federal repeal makes sense to a lot of states—32 states would benefit—I cannot visualize Congress taking this action."

"There has been growing appeal in Washington to repeal 2 of the 4 cents... (which) would not solve our problems but it would give us some breathing room. The same can be said of the proposed legislation introduced by Congressmen (Roger) Zion, (John) Myers and (William) Hudnut which would guarantee a minimum 80 per cent return to each state of its total highway-related tax contribution to the federal government," Boehning said.

Boehning reiterated his opposition to use of federal highway trust funds for mass transportation projects.

He said he understands the Department of Transportation is considering demolishing a West Virginia mass transit project, unfinished after costs jumped from the original estimate of $13.5 million to $64 million and an estimated ultimate $125 million.

"That $64 million would have taken care of Cline Avenue (Lake County) which affects 40,000 people daily, plus a sizeable chunk of the needed rail relocation problems in Lake County," Boehning said.

The declining credibility follows a national trend, Kubler said, but it has been aided by a "terrible conflict of information out of Washington."

For example, he said, recent statements by the White House and federal energy officials

"indicate there is no shortage." At the same time, he added, the nation continues to import 6.4 million barrels of crude oil a day—twice as much as 1972, the year the government is using as a base for its allocations.

"That would resolve our immediate needs in Fort Wayne, too—the bypass, U.S. 30 and U.S. 27."

"I could go on and on—U.S. 24, U.S. 50, Indiana 37, et cetera, et cetera," Boehning said.

The delegation included Senate President Pro Tem Phillip E. Gutman, R-Fort Wayne, and House Speaker Kermit O. Burrous, R-Peru.

Nixon To Middle East Next Monday

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Moving to build on Henry A. Kissinger's negotiating success, President Nixon has decided to depart next Monday on the most extensive Middle East tour ever undertaken by a U.S. president.

According to administration sources, tentative plans called for a White House announcement today that Nixon would be visiting Egypt, Israel, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Jordan before returning to the United States about June 19.

The sources said he also was arranging a rest stop in the picturesque Austrian city of Salzburg en route to the Middle East, on a trip intended to underscore administration belief that Nixon remains a world leader despite impeachment moves at home.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said that despite Watergate, Nixon has bipartisan congressional support on foreign policy.

Mansfield said in Helena, Mont., that he applauded Kissinger's successes in the Middle East.

Not since Franklin D. Roosevelt's journeys to Cairo in 1943 and 1945 has an American president visited the region.

Kissinger, secretary of state as well as Nixon's national security adviser, paved the way for the trip when he negotiated a Syrian-Israeli disengagement agreement last week. He had negotiated a similar Israeli-Egyptian disengagement after a cease-fire in the October war.

A team of experts in such fields as communications and security already has arrived in the Middle East to make advance arrangements.

Worker Up To Neck In Concrete

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — There was one loud pop before tons of concrete came down around Eddie Weaver, trapping him and five other workers at a downtown Miami construction site.

"He was up to his neck in cement," said Weaver's uncle, Norman Warren. "I had to dig him out with my hands."

Warren, owner of the General Concrete Co., said Weaver was below a section of the second floor that collapsed Monday as cement was being poured.

"I was on the top and there was just a crack. The whole second floor gave way," said Warren. He said he was not hurt because "I'm fast."

"See Putnam County First" Visit Lieber State Park

During the Johnson era, all Americans were urged to "See American First". Before venturing out to the deserts of Arizona or the mountains of Colorado, why not save gasoline and "See Putnam County First"?

Putnam and Owen Counties are the site of the first flood control reservoir in the state. Started in 1948 and completed in 1952, Cataract Lake was created when Mill Creek was dammed to form Cagle Mill Flood Control Reservoir. The primary function of the lake is to be a Federal flood control project and the reservoir thus created is part of an over-all plan to prevent floods in the White, Wabash, Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

Of the 8,283 acres in Lieber State Park, Cataract Lake and surrounding areas, 7,300 acres are included in the land leased to the Department of Natural Resources by the United States Department of the Army, Corps of Engineers. Lieber State Park contains 641 acres and Owen Putnam State Forest has 342 acres.

Cataract Lake is the smallest lake in Indiana, yet it covers 1,500 acres and has a shoreline of 37 miles. Theoretically, the lake can rise 70 feet before going over the spillway and if filled to capacity it would be 4,840 acres. Drainage area for the lake is 188,800 acres.

This spring, the lake is up 21 feet, which is one foot above the normal spring flooding. In previous years, park officials have seen the lake up as high as 42 feet.

This flooding has caused considerable problems for the park administration. Not only is the beach underwater, but so are parking lots and beach house. Swimming has been prohibited and boating and fishing are down 90 per cent from last year.

The Army, Corps of Engineers based in Louisville, Ky., operates the dam and has control over the water level. Park officials were hoping to get permission any day now to open the gates a little. The corps checks river heights south of the reservoir daily and this constitutes their decision on whether or not to open the dam. It is a slow process and although swimming and boating may be hurt, "flood control comes first; recreation is a 'by-product', always."

The beach should have been open the Saturday before Memorial Day, but according to Superintendent Howard Frederick, it will be lucky if the beach is open the weekend after next. When the water does recede, the problems have only just begun for park officials. All plumbing in the bath house will need to be installed along with a thorough cleaning of the beach, which will be covered with mud and slime. The total cleaning process will probably take 12 days.

While the water is still high, park officials must carefully restrict activities near the water. Warning signs were set at the entrances of (Roadways) leading to the lake, but not all persons heeded the warnings. One yellow Volkswagen found a new home in the bottom of the lake after its owner ran it past warning signs and into the lake. There it will sit until the lake recedes. Boat owners have also run into the bath house and debris, both of which are hidden by the water.

Even with swimming prohibited for awhile, the park has much more to offer and can handle up to 10,000 visitors in a day. So far this year, camping figures are ahead of last year and this may prove to be a record year.

There are 321 marked sites and 200 primitive, which should be marked by late fall. Lieber is one of nine state parks which began to accept reservations this past spring.

These are accepted Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The number to call is 795-4576. Reservations must be made at least 48 hours in advance and no longer than two weeks. However with a written note and $3 deposit, a site can be reserved for a year from now. With electricity a site is $3 a night, plus Indiana sales tax. Class B is $2.50 a night and primitive is $2.

Besides camping, boating, fishing, swimming and picnicking, the park features a 35-acre tract of land known as Cataract Falls. There are both upper and lower falls and comprise the largest cataract falls in Indiana.

Right now, the lower falls are not visible as flooding has covered them up, but two new overlooks have been built near the upper falls and give visitors a breathtaking view of this waterland.

It is advertised on TV that a family of four can be entertained by spending only $5 for a dinner from Kentucky Fried Chicken. Well there is an even better deal waiting for you. For $1.25 a car, a load of people can enter Lieber Park and all facilities (except camping) are open to you. So fill your car with friends and relatives and take advantage of this great deal. That way you will be seeing American and Putnam County too.

A fisherman takes advantage of high water to catch some of the Bass and Bluegill which are no longer visible because of the 21 feet that the lake has risen this spring. The falls are fed from Mill Creek which enters southeast of Cataract Lake.

This may look like just a plain picture of a fishing boat and trees in the water, but there is more to the picture than meets the eye. Below the water is a parking lot which normally houses cars of visitors to the boat dock in Lieber Park. Beyond the trees is the bath house, which also is covered by Cataract Lake and is visible only from the air.

Surrounded by a water covered parking lot, Paul Jones, boat concession owner in Lieber State Park and Shorty Harrington wait for possible customers for the fishing boat rental. Under normal conditions, the houseboat that they are seated in would be in the water, but with the lake up 21 feet, owners of boats are unable to reach their vehicles and must be ferried out to the dock. Workage on a gas line out to the boat dock has also been curtailed due to the flooding of the lake.

Guests of Mrs. Allie Wilson Saturday evening in her sister's home, Mrs. Frances Harbison, were Mrs. Bea Hazlett, Mrs. Thelma Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McCutchan and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Flock.

Faulty wiring was the cause of a fire which damaged the mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Thornburg Wednesday evening in the east part of town. Smoke damage was extensive and heat from the blaze melted plastic items on the walls and throughout the house. The Thornburgs had reportedly left the home, but had returned for a change of clothing and found the fire.

Opening lead - king of clubs.
I was playing in a pair championship with one of my favorite partners, who will have to be nameless. Pitted against us, on this occasion, were the legendary Two Little Old Ladies.

We wound up in three notrump and the L.O.L. on the left of my illustrious partner led the king of clubs.

My partner ducked and won the club continuation with the ace. When he tried a heart finesse the queen lost to the king and the L.O.L. on his left cashed the Q-J of clubs to bring her side to four tricks, declarer having discarded a heart and a spade from dummy.

Now the L.O.L. made an astounding play. She led the queen of spades! My unfortunate partner - having seen the L.O.L. on his left show up with the K-Q-J of clubs and king of hearts - assumed that the ace of spades was on his right.

Since he could not imagine West's failing to take the setting trick if she had the ace of spades, he played low from dummy.

But the L.O.L. now triumphantly produced the ace of spades and we finished down two. I was watching my partner as the spade ace was played, and it would be hard to describe the expression of utter frustration and futility that permeated his countenance.

Moreover, when he realized he could probably have made the hand by playing the king of spades, he began to shake his head from side to side and, in fact, the last time I saw him his head was still going to and fro.

When I asked the L.O.L. why she had led the queen of spades, her answer positively stunned me. She said: "What else could I lead with the A-Q-10?"

Apologize to son and free your anxieties

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have a son who was my whole life until this happened. He was married for 18 years and had two lovely children. Then all of a sudden he left his wife and family to go live with a man!

He called to tell me about it. My world was shattered. When he was younger, I sometimes wondered if he was homosexual. I noticed a few signs, but I never would accept it. In my hysteria, I screamed at him over the phone: "As far as I'm concerned, you just died. In fact, drop dead. I never want to see you again!" Then I hung up.

He and his wife must have some kind of understanding because she doesn't seem nearly as upset as I. I'm told he spent last Christmas Eve with his family, helped with the tree, and everything went smoothly.

Abby, dear, I am not without sin. Was I wrong to sit in judgment and condemn him? Should I accept him for what he is? We were always so close and really loved each other. Should I call him and apologize? Please, Abby, tell me what to do.
BROKENHEARTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: When we do the right thing, we feel good about it. When we do the wrong thing, we feel bad. Call him.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been considering beginning a family, but we aren't completely certain that we want to, for various reasons. However, here is one reason in particular which bothers me. I have always been a rather possessive person, and it is important to me to be the most important person in my husband's life.

I'm afraid if I had a child, the child might become more important to my husband than I am and I would then become jealous of my own child. I've seen it happen in some families.

I have caught myself feeling jealous when my husband shows affection for our dog. Now, wouldn't it be terrible to feel that way about your own child? Does this sound far out to you, or have you come across this problem before? And what should I do about it?
JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: If you're jealous of a dog, forget about a family. It shouldn't happen to a child.

DEAR ABBY: I finally met a man I can be serious about, and there are only two things wrong with him.

One: When we go out to dine, he cuts all his meat into little bite-sized pieces as though he were preparing it for a 4-year-old child, or a dog!

The other thing: When a lady comes into a room and he is seated, he never stands up.

How can I get him to correct these two faults without hurting his feelings? He would be perfect otherwise.
SERIOUS ABOUT HIM

DEAR SERIOUS: Tell him lovingly that if it weren't for two minor flaws in etiquette, he would be perfect! Then gently explain. Now, what man would resent a little constructive criticism in order to attain perfection? If yours does, he has more than only two faults.

Brian Bex Report

During the last several decades a fatal germ has infected our nation. It carries and spreads a, perhaps, fatal disease: bureaucracy. In the past few years these germs have proliferated in America. Bureaucracies are generally formed to solve particular problems. However, in the case in question the cure has proved to be worse than the disease. Rather than trying to solve the initial problem the bureaucrat was hired to solve, he simply professionalizes the problem by hiring a staff so that he can then return to his pre-bureaucracy lassitude in the comforting belief that someone is working on the problem. His conscience is salved because it's not his fault that it won't be solved. After all, he hired someone to solve it!

AMERICA'S DEATH WATCH Part I

Now, let's face it: the bureaucrat is not going to storm out and solve himself right out of a job. He is going to take that problem and nurture it along just as long as he can. He'll rename it, reorient it, investigate it, eulogize it, subcommittee it, and subdivide it. He will then need specialized professionals for each of the subdivisions so they can brief it, appeal it, publish it, classify it, settle it, account for it, operate on it, rate it, politic it, but you can be sure they will never solve it.

Now, ask yourself what problem has the government solved? What problem did Roosevelt had does Nixon not have: war; poverty; debt; inflation? They are still the same; different title, different agencies, same problem.

The hour is late and it is time to come to grips with the single most important danger facing our nation, and you and I as individuals: an entrenched and growing bureaucracy, with life-and-death control over every phase of American life.

There are approximately 3,000,000 Federal employees, and when a new administration comes in, less than 10% of the bureaucrats go, because they are securely entrenched by Civil Service "tenure."

Of this vast total, the American people can vote on only 537: a president; a vice president; and 535 members of Congress. When Mr. Nixon took office in January, 1969, there were 4,000 employees in the Office of Economic Opportunity (Poverty War) alone, and he could change only 16 of them. The rest could thumb their noses at their superiors, the executive department, the Congress, and the people.

Although Congress creates the bureaus and raises money to support them, less than 20% of their decrees, orders, and regulations are ever voted upon by the elected representatives of the people. Most bureaus have an "independent" status and are as free as roaches in the family woodwork to nibble and gnaw at the foundations of the house.

Economists for the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York predict that if this bureaucratic domination in Washington continues, every employed working American will be working for the federal government by the year 2000.

What, you may ask, are a few of the glaring examples of this power and bureaucratic control?

(1) The order against the broadcast media about tobacco advertising, later validated by congressional statute. The order is clearly unconstitutional because the industry has the right of free speech (advertising). But consider this: if the government can tell an advertiser what he can and cannot say, can it not tell a newspaper what to print. After all, an advertisement is only one column away from a news story.

(2) Congress itself, with the Civil Rights Act passed during the administration of Lyndon Johnson, clearly prohibited the busing of school children for racial balance only. But a massive bureau, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, deliberately thumbed its nose at Congress and upset scores of communities by ordering children transported away from their parents and neighborhoods in a scheme, by dreamers, to make over the youngsters' lives in their own image. During a recent rally in Greenwich Village, an official to the Communist Party in America applauded busing and concluded: "Give us the kids, and they can have their...old Constitution."

(3) In the field of employment, the Federal octopus has what it calls "affirmative action programs" in which businesses are "encouraged" to hire a certain percent of minorities. This is the first step. The final will be a cease-and-desist order setting racial quotas, regardless of individual qualifications: a Mexican-American recently demanded a job as a newscaster; trouble is, he could hardly speak English. The day will come when he will have to be hired, regardless of whether or not he can speak English.

The cost of Federal personnel is staggering. Salaries for civilian and military, plus fringes, will be nearly $60 billion in the new budget. This total is twice that of 1964 when Lyndon Johnson was President; the bureaucracy has had NINE pay increases in that period.

The office space required to house Federal employees is the equivalent of 1,250 Empire State Buildings. This perennial overhead is a substantial part of each year's Federal budget: around one-quarter of the total. That total is $264 billion.

When you get up to figures like these, they become incomprehensible. For instance: if you have a stack of $1,000 bills, four inches high, you would be a millionaire; but to pay off the national debt, that stack would have to be 18 miles high.

The Federal bureaucracy is the most powerful of all pressure groups in this country because it can manipulate the nation's top political structure, and politics is the biggest business in our country.

As a nation, we have been the most generous and compassionate in human history when it comes to shelling out hard earned tax money to help the oppressed and to protect those countries which want to preserve their liberties. But at home we have financed a political superstructure, a monstrous bureaucracy which, deliberately or unwittingly, eats away at the guarantees and privileges of a free press, free speech, free enterprise, incentive, personal initiative, and economic reward.

At a time when the Soviet Union is disregarding a portion of Marxism and turning toward such capitalistic virtues as incentive and initiative, the United States is gradually debasing those values which it conceived and nurtured, and which have met the challenge of every crisis and test.

We are being handcuffed more and more by restrictive regulations. The governments- Federal, state, and local- not only intervene in our businesses to enforce arbitrary and artificial standards of race, religion, nationality, sex, age and an infinite series of corollaries, but even in our schools and in our homes. And this is only the beginning.

Won't someone see where we are going!

One index of this octopuslike Federal Bureaucracy's size is its number of filing cabinets. The executive branch has two million. In Washington alone these cabinets cover 25 million cubic feet of floor space. This is twelve times the entire rentable floor space in the vast 102 story Empire State Building- only for filing cabinets. 250,000, yes, 250,000 Federal payrollers are chiefly involved with filing paper into cabinets. 2In Washington's paper-work jungle a total of more than 2,600 dataprocessing centers are now working. They have the potential of supplying the executive branch with a stack of records 2,000 miles high every year. Yet, more are being installed at the astounding rate of more than 500 per year.

The paperwork jungle now showers taxpayers with around 350,000 forms and questionnaires. These involve 15 million copies. Federal payrollers bombard us with more than billion letters a year; this averages 2,740,000 per day. And it costs the government $2.00 to write each letter.

You recall the classic calculation that the Lord's Prayer contains 56 words; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, 260; the Ten Commandments, 300; the Declaration of Independence, 3,000. Well, a recent government order establishing the price of cabbage contained 26,911.

We have for decades looked to our leaders, but our protests are continuously silenced by the grim warnings of disaster or possible total war. Yet, we see no prospect for truth, little true sign of concern, hear few words of encouragement, find no basis for easing our fears. Our every expression of hope for reduction in the tax burden is met by the angry rejoinder that taxes must go even higher. We see no plan to transform extravagance into frugality, no desire to regain economic and fiscal stability, no prospect of return to the rugged idealism and collective tranquility of our fathers. We see and are told but a single answer to America's problems: more money.

We witness a ceaseless effort to spend and spend, to tax and tax, but only a callous indifference to mounting disclosures of graft and corruption, and waste in public administration.

Public policy is no longer geared to the simple determination of that which is right and that which is wrong. The objective is to build political strength, even at the expense of public interest. This was once incomprehensible to Americans, who understood fully the influence of religion and morality that has always been exerted upon political activity.

But, one asks, how can it be true that the philosophy of Jefferson and Jackson, which once contributed so magnificently to the building of the Republic, could be so lost to us now, could now sponsor and support so tragic a cleavage from our great traditions? How could it despoil those very concepts of humanity and government upon which rested our past spiritual and temporal strength? The answer is as clear as it is distressing those personages possessing America's noble heritage have become captive to the schemers and planners who have infiltrated our ranks of leadership, to set the national course unerringly toward a socialistic regimentation of totalitarian welfare state.

Our forefathers associated together into a sovereign state for the sole purpose of protecting their common liberties, not of yielding them again to a centralized authority. Their concept held to the primary of the individual's interest. They who trample upon constitutional liberty by the undue and unneeded centralization and imposition of political power are turning back the pages of history and are gradually reinstituting those very excesses and abuses for which the British crown was indicted in 1776 by our Declaration of Independence. They are dangerous reactionaries in contemporary American politics.

Bureaucrats of Washington, D. C., have trifled

KEEPING YOU POSTED

NOW! SEE THE FRESHNESS FOR YOURSELF

Consumers rightly expect the foods they buy to be fresh and good. That's why Kroger pampers and protects and rushes the foods we sell to stores at their peak of freshness.

Because we do take such care, Kroger is confident of the freshness of the foods we sell. That's why we can guarantee them on a replacement or money-back basis.

And that is why we open date foods for freshness. Some 1900 foods sold by Kroger now carry an open date ... easy-to-read, such as AUG 30 ... to let you know the last day a product will be sold so it will stay fresh for an average usage period (or longer) after you buy it and carry it home.

Kroger open-dates a wide variety of foods - everything from milk, eggs and bread to many items other grocers don't open-date, such as jelly, snack crackers and peanut butter. And we also include prepackaged fresh fruits and vegetables and fresh meats. They all carry the freshness date so you can see for yourself how fresh they are.

At Kroger, we believe that consumers have the right to know more about the foods they buy. We're open-dating more foods than just about anybody else in the country. This is one more Kroger service designed to help you - the consumer.

We hear you and we're trying to help!

with that great American Institution: free, competitive, private enterprise; the keystone to the arch of economic strength as a nation, and prosperity as a people. By the imposition of oppressive and arbitrary controls upon business and production, by exhaustive taxation which withers initiative, reduces energy and, in the end, destroys the spirit of enterprise, by spendthrift policies which stagger the imagination, by discouraging adherence to the principle of private ownership of property, they have established the prerequisites for a socialistic, or later, a communistic state. They thus chart a course with such reckless abandon, leasing toward the ultimate national bankruptcy, they endeavor to mislead and control the public mind by a patronage of money, by devices calculated to create an artificial appearance of prosperity and by a continual flow of irresponsible and deceptive propaganda.

Admits Seattle

NFL Expands Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League voted Tuesday to expand to Seattle, adding a 28th franchise for the 1976 season.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced the decision which adds Seattle to the NFL, along with Tampa, which was awarded a franchise in April.

"The conditions are the same as they were for Tampa," said Rozelle. That includes a record sports franchise price of $16 million.

Rozelle said that questions of scheduling, realignment and stocking of the new teams had yet to be resolved.

Without ruling out further expansion in the future, the commissioner did say that he did not expect any more teams to be added at the NFL owners' meeting this week.

Seattle was selected over Memphis, Phoenix and Honolulu, who had bid for franchises. Rozelle said, however, that the unsuccessful cities still would be considered for future expansion.

"Any city, and that includes present NFL cities, would be a candidate for future expansion," the commissioner said.

Rozelle said the vote to admit Seattle was not unanimous. Admission to the NFL required affirmative votes from 20 of the 26 established NFL clubs.

Seattle was the only city recommended for an immediate franchise by the NFL Expansion Committee.

The city is building a domed stadium, which is expected to be ready in 1975, and Rozelle said both Seattle and Tampa have expressed an interest in moving up the timetable to begin play that year.

"We plan for 1976, and they both have to start the same year, but I wouldn't rule out 1975," the commissioner said.

Rozelle said that the vote to admit Seattle was the only formal vote taken at Tuesday's meeting.

"Seattle is the 16th-largest market and fits into the NFL schedule for largest cities in the country," the commissioner said. "It was the only part of the country in which we didn't have a franchise."

Rozelle called future expansion "a totally open deck. We're not restricting going into any city, including NFL cities." He mentioned New York, Chicago and Los Angeles as NFL cities that might qualify for additional franchises.

New York and Chicago each have franchises in the new World Football League, and the NFL also has placed a team in Southern California.

Freije
Assigned
Position

Tom Freije, who three weeks ago announced his resignation as head track and cross country coach and assistant basketball coach at South Putnam High School, has accepted a position as head basketball coach and athletic director at Union High School in Modoc, Indiana.

Freije will begin teaching drivers' education next week at the school of approximately 320, and will teach physical education during the regular school year.

The popular coach plans to move his family and mobile home to Modoc, situated near Muncie, within the week.

Referring to the negotiations with the Union High School people, Freije said, "They made me an offer I just couldn't turn down."

Freije plans to keep on the basketball developments in Putnam County, perhaps with sights set on meeting South Putnam in Indianapolis next spring...

All-Star Profile

The following is the first in a series of profiles on the Indiana High School All-Star Basketball players, who will meet the Kentucky All-Stars in a two game set later this month.

The first game will be played in Louisville on June 22, with the rematch slated for Hinkle Fieldhouse in Indianapolis at 8 p.m. the following Saturday.

Putnam County has had five representatives in the All-Star clashes since they began in 1939, the latest being Rick Ford of Cloverdale in 1968, the year after Bainbridge star Larry Steele played in the series.

Jeff Blue carried the Bainbridge banner into the game in 1960, being the first county representative since 1939, when Greencastle sent a pair of standouts.

George Taylor for Indiana in that first game, joined by Don Frazier, who brought home the since discontinued honor of 'Star of Stars'.

If the honor were to be awarded this year, one of the prime candidates would probably be this first player profiled.

Steve Collier

points and 12 rebounds per game.

Good-looking Steve, son of NAIA Hall of Fame Coach John Collier of Hanover College, set a 55-point record against Moores Hill hitting 23 of 32 field goal attempts. His career stats were 21.3 points and 10 rebounds per game and a 52 per cent shooting average from the floor.

Having attended the Indiana-Kentucky All-Star games for the past four years, Collier has always wanted to be in on the action. "It's something I've looked forward to for a long time," he commented. "Being named Mr. Basketball is by far the best thing that's ever happened to me."

According to Steve's coach, sportswriters and broadcasters made a wise choice by selecting Collier. "His knowledge of the game, grasp of concepts and ability to adjust to different situations is excellent. I could always see my request being carried out on the floor by Steve," Mitchell said. "His dedication for perfection carried over to other members of the team. By example, he encouraged his teammates to work harder."

In addition to playing in the Indiana-Russia All-Star game in April, Collier was selected to play in the capital Classic in Washington D.C. Midwestern Classic in Dayton, Derby Festival Classic in Louisville and the Sharon, Pennsylvania Tournament of Champions.

Having to live up to a father's reputation as an outstanding athlete might create problems for some young men. Not so with Steve. "Dad never pushed me into sports," Collier explained. "He just provided the answer when I had questions."

The tornadoes that ravaged Indiana April 3, took a heavy toll in his hometown of Hanover. Ten persons died, 150 were injured. Steve's own home was severely damaged and Southwestern High School was demolished.

Collier has remained cool throughout the whole nightmare. He's been practicing for the June games wherever he can find a court that's in halfway decent shape.

One of only two Hoosier players scouted by UCLA, Steve is undecided as to where he will enroll next fall.

This summer, he will be helping his father at a Basketball camp at Hanover College.

Siderowf Upset In Britain

MURFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Defending champion Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., was upset in the second round of the British Amateur Golf championships Tuesday, but James Gabrielson, a Walker Cup player from Atlanta, lifted America's fortunes with victory.

After Siderowf, a 36-year-old stockbroker, was beaten by Mike Miller, 23, of Glasgow, Scotland, on the final hole, Gabrielson crushed Scotland's Morrison Zuill, 6 and 5.

Only 18 members of the original 47-man U.S. contingent reached the second round, and thus far, only five of nine who completed second-round matches have won.

Gabrielson, 32, an insurance broker, played Murfield's 6, 862-yard, par-71 layout in improving weather. Strong winds whipped the course Monday and early Tuesday, but sun broke through in late Tuesday afternoon and the wind abated somewhat although it still made accuracy difficult.

Of the other Americans who advanced to the third round, the most impressive was James W. Key of Columbus, Ga., who outclassed Jim Strope of Houston, 7 and 5.

Other U.S. players to reach the third round were William J. Trombley of Dallas, Gordon Brewer Jr. of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., and Bill Cosgrove of Worcester, Mass.

Siderowf had conquered this always-difficult course in impressive style in Monday's gaes and played only about three poor shots throughout Tuesday's match.

He had hoped to become only the second American to win this even two years in a row. Lawson Little did it in 1934-35 and Siderowf was heavily favored to match that feat.

ABA OK For Next Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike Storen, commissioner of the American Basketball Association, stated unequivocally Tuesday that his shaky league would be in operation for the 1974-75 season, but emphasized he would not know until June 21 what shape or form it would take.

While admitting that his league faced serious problems, the optimistic Storen denied a published report that the seven-year-old ABA would dissolve within 30 days and four of its teams—the champion New York Nets, Kentucky Colonels, Indiana Pacers and San Antonio Spurs—would be absorbed as expansion teams by the rival National Basketball Association.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy declined comment on the report.

The ABA's major problems stem from the uncertainty of 6 of its 10 franchises.

Owner Tedd Munchak of the Carolina Cougars has said he would not operate the franchise in North Carolina next season, and already has begun dispersing his personnel.

Coach Larry Brown and General Manager Carl Scheer, given permission by Munchak to negotiate with Denver, were signed by the Rockets. Center Jim Chones was released outright, waived through the ABA and signed by the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers. All-Star guard Ted McCain was sold to Kentucky and 1972-73 ABA Most Valuable Player Billy Cunningham reportedly is on the brink of returning to Philadelphia of the NBA.

The Memphis Tams, Virginia Squires, Utah Stars and Denver Rockets all reportedly are up for sale while the San Diego Conquistadors have been told by Storen to find a new arena to replace their 3,200-seat Community Concourse or move.

The commissioner stressed that all the answers to the uncertainties would be resolved at the league's meeting in Louisville, Ky. June 20-21.

"We have established June 21st as a deadline so that we can step off early in the right direction for next season," said Storen.

Despite the league's unsteady situation, cities such as Los Angeles, Chicago, Tampa, Fla., and the Albany-Schenectady area in upstate New York have been mentioned as expansion possibilities.

Cubs Face Clinton
In Brazil Regional

Greencastle's Tiger Cubs will take a 10-5 record with them to the Brazil regional baseball tournament Saturday, where they will face Clinton in the second game, scheduled to begin shortly after noon.

Terre Haute North and host Brazil will kick off the regional at 10 a.m., to be followed one half hour after its completion by the Cub-Wildcat clash.

The championship game is set to begin one and one half hours after the completion of the second contest.

Admission to the tourney is 75¢ per session or $1.25 for the entire three game affair. Helping the Cubs most to their 8-5 regular season slate and second place finish in the WIC was their hitting, which averaged a highly impressive .298.

Six of the eight Cub regulars broke the .300 mark, with Kim Jones leading the way at .473.

The senior centerfielder was followed by Phil Fisher at .367, John Allee at .356, Stacy Spencer at .353, and Mike Duncan and Robert Plessinger, both at .333.

Randy Jones and Jeff Cantonwine added respective .250 and .225 batting averages to their considerable fielding talents.

The main question mark for the Cubs this year has been their pitching, which came around in the form of Bill Earl and Rick Parrish to help them to the sectional championship Monday.

Parrish is the mainstay of the staff, finishing the regular season with a 5-3 won-loss record and 2.38 ERA, while Earl wound up the regular season with a 3-1 slate and 4.48 ERA before four-hitting Cloverdale through 6 2/3 innings Monday.

However, after this pair the Cub twirling staff fades rapidly, being questionably bolstered by Kent Frazier, who pitched himself five innings worth of 16.80 ERA ball during the season.

If the Cubs are to make it through the Brazil regional it would seem a must that Parrish and Earl turn in near-complete game performances, near enough so that they can relieve each other and still be ready for the other game.

It will also be a must for the Cub hitting, stymied so well by Cloverdale's Kelly Bailey in the semi-final game Monday, to come through in the manner in which it did in the final sectional game, when it amassed 14 runs against South Putnam.
